

User Stories

As part of the requirements analysis for the integration of federated identity management systems into OpenStack-based IaaS offerings, we would like various stakeholders to describe what they would like to achieve. The original proposal for the workshop summarised this part as:

Describe an utopia where access of researchers to science clouds is managed perfectly across organisations. This includes onboarding, accounting, cost sharing, lifecycle management etc.

The suggested way to frame these requirements/desiderata is in the form of user stories.

Feel free to add stories of your own!